Summary:

The Israeli brutal attack on the Gaza Strip intensified during the month of December, and especially closer to the holidays (the end of the month). In addition to the continuation of ground force attacks, invasions, and destructions of Jabaliya, Shajaiye, Shate'a Refugee Camp (north) and Al-Bureij and Nusseirat Camp (central), the Israeli forces expanded to Khan Yunis (south), Deir Al-Balah and Al Bureij (central). However, it was clear that the extensive and brutal attacks were in Khan Yunis and its surrounding agricultural villages of Al Qarara, Bani Suheila, Abasan, and Khuza'a. Khan Yunis' population was estimated at 200,000 people before the Israeli attack on the Gaza Strip, with an estimated rise to 800,000 additional internally displaced Palestinians, prior to the issued Israeli evacuation order. But December was when Khan Yunis before they received the evacuation order.

By the end of December, the number of people killed in the Gaza Strip since October 7th reached 21,822 Palestinians, including 9,000 children, 6,450 women, 312 medical personnel, 40 civil defense members, 106 journalists, and 136 UN employees; with an additional estimate of 7,000 Palestinians missing. The number of confirmed cases of injured in the Gaza Strip as of December 27th was around 55,243. Starvation was becoming more and more evident by the end of December with four out of five starving children globally being in Gaza.

According to the Israeli website "Mekomit," 88% of all buildings in the northern part of Gaza are no longer suitable for habitation (26% were completely demolished, and 62% were partially demolished). Based on investigations by two Israeli news outlets, the Israeli army significantly targeted public buildings and residential towers during the war. Testimonies suggest that the army approved bombings in populated areas despite knowing that it would lead to the death of hundreds of innocent civilians – a policy that resulted in a significant increase in the number of child and family casualties, with more than 300 families losing at least 10 members each.

The dehumanization of Palestinians in Gaza, justifying the intentional civilian killing and destruction continued and increased, with reporters claiming that it was an approach to gain popularity among the Israeli public. Politicians like Amichai Eiyahu, Bezalel Smotrich, Avigdor Lieberman, Daniella Weiss, David Azoulai, Tali Gottlieb, have emerged through their individual calls for "Voluntary Migration", the "Flattening" and "resettlement of Gaza by Israelis". These calls suggest that this is Israel's plan for the future of Gaza. Media reports indicated that such plans and campaign exist and are working to implement this vision, led by the settler movements in the West Bank.

This reports dives into the day-to-day violations and attacks in Gaza while also expanding on the extensive violations and crimes conducted in the West Bank. The illegal Israeli settlers' activities in expropriating Palestinian land across the West Bank was intensified and made very much visible during this month with wide areas and acres of lands confiscated in December alone. Furthermore, the continued instances of daily crimes, assassinations, murders, and more. The number of Israeli incursions into Palestinian towns and cities in the West Bank reached 1,623 incursions during the month of December, averaging to 54 incursions per day – which surpassing the rate in November. While, the number of arrests in December slightly decreased to 1,339 Palestinians, averaging 45 arrests per day. Nevertheless, the threat towards Palestinian prisoners is extremely alarming given the draft law submitted by Otzma Yehudit party ordering the execution of Palestinian prisoner, adding that the draft is which is expected to receive support from all Knesset members.

Politicians and Racist Statements:

"There are no innocents in the Gaza Strip": On December 3, Member of the Knesset and leader of the "Yisrael Beiteinu" party, Avigdor Lieberman announced to justify Israel's approach to the war, and encourage his Israeli audience. This statement was used by him, Avigdor Lieberman in 2018, during his role as the Israeli Minister of Defense at the time, to legitimize the killing of Palestinians that were peacefully marching at the Gaza border.

"Executing Palestinian Prisoners": On December 6, the Israeli Minister of Heritage, Amichai Eliyahu, called for the execution of Palestinian prisoners in Israeli prisons as a way to block any future deals for the exchange of prisoners. Furthermore, Ben-Gvir's Otzma Yehudit, or Jewish Power party submitted a draft law to execute Palestinian prisoner, adding that the draft is expected to receive support from all Knesset members.

Jewish settlement of the Gaza Strip the day after the war: On December 14, the head of the "Nahala" settlement movement, Daniela Weiss, emphasized that she is looking for the Jewish return and settlement of the Gaza Strip the day after the war. She continued to repeat the claims that Egypt is preparing to receive refugees from Gaza, and falsify the claim that Egypt doesn't want them. She added, that Erdogan will also receive part of them because he loves radical Islam. And then legitimized the distribution of Palestinians in Gaza to other countries in Europe by adding: There are many Muslims in Amsterdam, and many Muslims in Berlin. Two million people will leave Gaza to the world. Israeli Channel 12 published a detailed report at the beginning of 2024 about real and persistent efforts for settlement in the Gaza Strip, led by active settler associations in the West Bank, with "Nahala" at the forefront, involving hundreds of settlers. Weiss' statements are not new, as Settlement Minister Orit Struck called for a return to Gaza before October 7.

"Flattened completely, just like Auschwitz today": On December 18, David Azoulay, a political leader for the northern Israeli town of Metula stated that Gaza should be flattened completely and Palestinians in Gaza should be forcibly sent to refugee camps in Lebanon.

"Voluntary Migration": On December 25, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu stated that he is working towards the re-settlement of Gaza residents to other countries, claiming that, "The problem is the lack of countries ready to receive them, and we are working to solve this problem." Netanyahu's words followed a proposal by Likud party member Dani Dannon, advocating for the formation of a team affiliated with the State of Israel to assist anyone who wants to leave the Gaza Strip, considering it of "strategic importance to Israel on the day after the war."

Those who refuse to leave their homes "deserve death": On December 28, Likud party Knesset member Tali Gottlieb called for ensuring aerial bombardment in the south continue intensely, disregarding the 1.9 million displaced Palestinians currently taking refuge there. She also called for controlling the area of northern Gaza by building military bases and settlements.

"Not one shekel will go to the 'Nazi terrorists' in Gaza": On December 29, Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich refused to transfer tax funds to the Palestinian Authority (PA) – equating the PA to Hamas. This came in response to the US' request of Israel to transfer the funds it collects for the Authority, which Israel rejected and continues today to withhold the funds. Smotrich also carried on and said Palestinians should leave Gaza, making way for Israelis.

Israel must be permanently present in the Gaza Strip: On December 30, Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich stated that Israel's presence should be militarily and civically, which indicates re-settling the Strip, while the two million Palestinians cannot remain, and should be encouraged to "voluntarily migrate" from the Strip. According to him, consultations should begin on the approach for settling the Strip, emphasizing, that to survive there militarily, Israelis must also survive there civically.

Expropriation of Land:

In the month of December, the Israeli authorities rushed to implement various settlement plans from building roads to expanding settlements. This included confiscation of land in all governorates of the West Bank, but especially in the areas of Nablus, Hebron, and Jerusalem. In terms of schools and in the month of December, 38 schools were invaded and vandalized.

- o December 2: The Israeli army seized 1.25 acres of land in the village of Huwwara, south of Nablus, for military purposes. The town has been suffering from a strict siege for 55 days.
- o December 6: In the village of Bireen, south of Hebron, settlers built a 2 mile colonial road to connect the Adam and Geva Binyamin settlements, facilitating the expansion of these settlements. The Israeli forces also demolished an inhabited house in the town of Al-Khader in the Umm Rukba area, under the claim of lack of permits. They also constructed a colonial road in the area, declaring it a closed military zone. While in Jerusalem, the Israeli government approved the construction of 1,738 units in a new settlement southeast of Jerusalem, between the settlements of Giv'at Hamatos and Har Homa. This plan obstructs the last remaining passage connecting East Jerusalem with the neighborhoods of Beit Safafa and Sharafat.

- December 7: The Israeli forces seized 125 acres of land in the village of Jab'a, northeast of Jerusalem, claiming it as state land. The confiscation aims to create geographic continuity between the Adam and Geva Binyamin settlements for future expansion.
- December 9: The Israeli army closed a landfill in the town of Beita, south of Nablus, and destroyed the road leading to it. The municipality estimated the losses at 150,000 shekels (approximately USD30,000). The Israeli authorities also notified several Jerusalemites in the Bab Al-Maghariba area (Moroccan Gate), in the Old City of Jerusalem, to evacuate properties and lands covering 2.25 acres, as a prelude to confiscation.
- December 10: Israeli forces started constructing a road for settlers on the lands of Falah Badawi Sbu Sneineh's family in Khirbet Qalqas, south of Hebron. The road is designed to be 25 feet wide and 984 feet long.
- December 11: The Israeli forces announced its intention to seize the historic area of Deir Qala, west of Salfit, covering an area of 4.5 acres.
- December 18: The Israeli forces closed the entrances to villages and towns in Ramallah, restricting the movement of citizens in places like Atara, Rawabi, Birzeit, Silwad, Yabrud, Aboud, Ras Karkar, Shuqba, Turmus Ayya, Oyoun al-Haramiyya, Ni'lin, and Deir. Ammar and Kharbatha Bani Harith. The army also set up a checkpoint, preventing the movement of citizens between the villages of Um Safa and Nabi Saleh, and a checkpoint near the village of Ain Qiniya. The entrances to the town of Qusra, south of Nablus, were also closed with earthen barriers.
- December 20: A new settlement plan was revealed to seize 26 acres of land from the villages of Siniria and Masha, South of Qalqilia.
- December 21: The Israeli Military Administration of the West Bank signed a decision to re-establish the Homesh settlement (north of Burqa, Nablus area), despite Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's commitment to the U.S. administration not to build the settlement in northern West Bank.
- December 24: The Israeli government approved the transfer of 75 million shekels (approximately 25 million dollars) through the Settlement Ministry, led by Knesset member for the "Religious Zionism" party, Orit Struck, with the support of the Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich. The funds were earmarked under the label of "Support for the Security of Young Settlements in the West Bank," an Israeli term for illegal and "unauthorized" settlements, even under Israeli laws. According to "Yedioth Ahronoth" newspaper, the ministry's budget increased from 133 million shekels to 653 million shekels (40 million dollars to 200 million dollars) in just 7 months. Additionally, settlers established a new settlement west of the town of Beitir, Bethlehem district, only 1,640 yards away from the village's homes. According to the "Peace Now" foundation, the settlement is strategically important for settlers and aims to isolate the city from surrounding villages.

Crimes and Violations

The number of Israeli incursions into Palestinian towns and cities in the West Bank reached 1,623 incursions during the month of December. This averages to 54 incursions per day, surpassing the rate in November, which was 1,345 incursions. These incursions are often accompanied by violent arrests, suppression, and shooting of any Palestinian present in the vicinity. Here are some specific incidents from these events:

- December 4: The Israeli forces invaded the home of the Al-Aqsa preacher, Sheikh Ikrima Sabri. The Israeli army also seized an agricultural tractor and a water tanker in the Umm Al-Abar area in the northern Jordan Valley, demolished six agricultural rooms in the town of Al-Ubeidiya east of Bethlehem to facilitate settlement operations and the expansion of the Be'ot colony. In Subastiyah, the forces destroyed the electricity network in the town, which is subjected to continuous invasions, attempting to control its historical landmarks. Additionally, the Israeli forces prevented the 50 recently freed Jerusalemite children, as part of the prisoners exchange, from Silwan, Al-Eisawiya, and Sur, from attending schools belonging to the municipality of Jerusalem.
- December 5: The Israeli forces, with more than 40 armored military vehicles, stormed the city of Jenin and its camp, fired heavy bullets and smoke bombs, injuring 7 citizens. They also raided several homes, using some as military points, arrested several Palestinians, and bombed the house of Saleem Abu Awad in the Sahah area in the Jenin camp, causing fires and extensive damage to the house. Israeli soldiers also attacked ambulance crews in the camp while trying to transport the wounded and patients. They surrounded the vicinity of Jenin Governmental Hospital and Ibn Sina Hospital, searched ambulance vehicles, prevented them from reaching hospitals, and bulldozers destroyed streets and infrastructure in various areas of the camp.
- December 7: The Israeli forces invaded the city of Ramallah and shut down an advertising and promotion press. In Beit Ummar, north of Hebron, the Israeli army raided the headquarters of Beit Ummar Orphan Care Association, seized the association's files and furniture (computers and electrical appliances), and closed it with iron plates. The association's director mentioned that it serves about 200 orphaned children, with 470 students attending the association's school.
- December 8: The Israeli forces invaded several villages and neighborhoods in the city of Hebron, neighborhoods and villages west of the city of Jenin, and multiple areas in the West Bank. The Israeli army also attacked the Far'a camp south of Tubas, as special forces infiltrated the camp followed by military reinforcements. Two young men were arrested and six killed, including a 14-year-old child. Furthermore, the Israeli forces seized several agricultural tractors in the northern Jordan Valley while working in the Wadi Al-Faw area. While in Jerusalem, the Israeli army attacked worshipers at the Asbat Gate in Jerusalem, preventing them from reaching Al-Aqsa Mosque for prayers, imposing strict measures on their entry.
- December 10: The Israeli army invaded the city of Tubas, besieged a house and fired at it, leaving it to catch fire. The army also invaded several neighborhoods, - destroying the city's infrastructure. The attack included hovering helicopters and snipers. In the Hebron area, the Israeli forces invaded several villages, including Halhul and Beit Awaa, and disrupted traffic through thorough searches of vehicles, while confiscated others.
- December 11: The Israeli forces invaded the headquarters of the Islamic Charity Association and its Al-Aqsa School in Beit Ula, northwest of Hebron, seized computers and private files, and shut down the association using shielding the door with electric welding.

- December 12: The Israeli army launched an aggression on the city of Jenin and its camp, resulting in the killing of 7 Palestinians. Over 100 Palestinians from Jenin were arrested, investigated on the ground, and some were released.
- December 14: Two Palestinians were killed, and 10 others were injured in the ongoing aggression on Jenin. An Israeli drone targeted the eastern neighborhood of the city, and forces fired "Energa" shells at several houses. The aggression continued for three days, with forces surrounding hospitals and hindering the arrival of the wounded. The Israeli forces also invaded the towns of Yamoun and Sila Al-Harithiya west of Jenin, causing injuries, making arrests, and destroying a café during inspection and shooting.
- December 18: The Israeli forces invaded the Al-Far'a camp south of Tubas at nine in the morning, deploying large military reinforcements. This was the second invasion operation in 10 days, resulting in the murder of 4 Palestinians, including a child. In the village of Majdal Bani Fadl south of Nablus, the forces demolished a house and destroyed a 6,1562 feet-long power network between the village and the town of Akkaba.
- December 20: The Israeli forces raided several areas in Nablus, including Balata camp, Beit Furik, Qaryut, and Al-Lubban Al-Sharqiya, raiding homes. They demolished a residential building under construction, a warehouse, and a vehicle repair workshop in the village of Na'lin, west of Ramallah. Additionally, the forces confiscated 10 cars, invaded 15 houses in Al-Lubban Al-Sharqiya village south of Nablus, and prevented Palestinians from planting olive saplings in the village of Asira Al-Shamaliya north of Nablus.

Aggression on Gaza - Daily Monitoring

The war continued for its third month with the death toll reaching 21,822 Palestinians, including 9,000 children, 6,450 women, 312 medical personnel, 40 civil defense members, 106 journalists, and 136 UN employees; and an additional estimate of 7,000 Palestinians missing. An estimated number of displaced individuals in the sector is 1.9 million refugees living in dire conditions, facing famine, severe cold, and the spread of diseases and epidemics amid the collapse of the health sector. According to the United Nations Office, the number of confirmed cases of injured in the Gaza Strip as of December 27th was around 55,243.

In December alone, 6,753 Palestinians were killed, averaging to 225 Palestinians killed per day, while 20,402 Palestinians were wounded, averaging 680 wounded per day. It is estimated that 40% of the Palestinians killed were children (about 9 thousand) and 30% were women (about 6,450 women). Approximately 900,000 children in shelters suffer from drought, famine, diseases, and anemia. Furthermore, and according to the Palestinian Ministry of Education, since the start of the Israeli aggression on October 7th in Gaza, 3,679 students have been murdered, and 5,429 have been injured. The ministry also stated that 209 teachers and administrators were murdered, and 619 were injured in Gaza. It was emphasized that 278 government schools and 65 UNRWA schools were targeted and damaged in Gaza, with 83 suffering severe damage and 7 being completely destroyed.

As for Women, there are 50,000 pregnant women in Gaza struggling without water and food. Ashraf al-Qudra, the spokesman for the Ministry of Health in Gaza, stated that 180 displaced women give birth daily in unsafe conditions. One should also mention that patients with chronic illnesses, are not getting treatment due to displacement and bombings. As an example, 70% of kidney failure patients face health risks.

The Mediterranean Observatory called revealed that the Israeli army arrested hundreds of Palestinians from the Sheikh Radwan neighborhood in Gaza City, including women who were taken to the Yarmouk Stadium. The Israeli soldiers removed their headscarves, searched them, and various women were subjected to explicit harassment, beating, and abuse. While minor boys under the age of 10 were forced to undress completely, except for their underwear. These measures were replicated from the previous Israeli arrest conducted at Jabalia camp. These detainees undergo initial investigation while they are naked and being subjected to severe torture. After which, some detainees are killed, others are released, while others are transferred to unknown detention camps inside Israel.

In terms of infrastructure, the Palestinian Central Bureau of Statistics reported that the war on Gaza destroyed approximately one-fifth of the agricultural lands in the Strip. As of December 13, 2023, data indicates that 18% of the agricultural areas in the Gaza Strip were affected, with the most significant direct damage in the northern provinces reaching 39%.
